

Interprofessional Community Dementia Caregiving Mini-Course Annual Virtual Spring Offering

UW Center for Interprofessional Practice and Education
 UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT of HEALTH SERVICES

Background Information:

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) and the University of Wisconsin Center for Interprofessional Practice and Education (UW CIPE) are working together to offer a mini-course for future clinicians. Participating students come from Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, Social Work, and other health profession programs. Students will learn about the special considerations and healthcare needs of family caregivers of people living with dementia while recognizing the effects of caregiving on the caregiver’s health, enabling them to incorporate this knowledge into their future professional practice.
