A Unique Professional Development Opportunity

This virtual offering equips participants with the skills and tools needed to find strength in different perspectives through dialogue and collectively work together to solve pressing challenges.

Self-Guided Modules & Virtual Peer-to-Peer Discussion

This asynchronous online course is offered between December 2025 and March 2026. You will first complete six self-paced online modules, anytime from December through February 2026. In March 2026, you will then participate in at least one peer-to-peer discussion group to practice skills learned from the online modules. These discussion groups will be held via Zoom. You will select the discussion group(s) by topic of your choice during registration. Topics include:

Join us Jan 20th 3-4 pm at the School of Nursing for an optional student input session with the Kern National Network!

- Vaccine Uptake and Usage
- Fat Shaming and Body Size Bias
- Ableism and Disability Discrimination
- Addiction and Substance Use
- Negative Stereotypes

Showcase Your Learning:

Student participants will earn an IPE Leadership Badge as part of the UW Madison Digital Badge program to showcase on a CV/resume or LinkedIn profile.
